

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

10 WESLEY COTTON,
11 Plaintiff,
12 v.
13 MEDINA, et al.,
14 Defendants.

Case No. 1:22-cv-00568-JLT-EPG (PC)
FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
TO DENY DEFENDANT MEDINA'S
MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT
REGARDING EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES
AND
MOTION TO VIEW VIDEO
(ECF Nos. 38, 49)
OBJECTIONS, IF ANY,
DUE WITHIN 30 DAYS

21 Plaintiff Wesley Cotton is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis (IFP) in this civil 22 rights action filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Defendant Medina moved for summary
23 judgement, arguing that Plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative remedies as to his failure
24 to protect claim against her. (ECF No. 38). Plaintiff opposed the motion, arguing that 25 Defendant Medina admitted in her answer that he exhausted his administrative remedies and 26 that he did, in fact, exhaust his remedies by filing a grievance. (ECF No. 48). Plaintiff also filed 27 a motion asking the Court to view the recording of his interview in relation to the grievance, as 28 further evidence that he exhausted administrative remedies. (ECF No. 49).

1 For the reasons stated below, the Court grants Plaintiff's motion for the Court to view
2 the video (ECF No. 49) and recommends that Defendant Medina's motion for summary
3 judgment (ECF No. 38) be denied.

4 I. BACKGROUND

5 A. Complaint, Screening, and Answers

6 Plaintiff filed the Complaint commencing this action on May 11, 2022. (ECF No. 1).
7 Plaintiff alleged that on March 19, 2022, two inmates engaged in a fistfight, and in response
8 tower officers, who Plaintiff identified as Doe Defendants, fired two gas cannisters. The gas
9 entered Plaintiff's caged enclosure, choking him and assaulting his eyesight. (Id. 3–5).¹
10 Defendant Medina did not fire the canisters, but failed to protect Plaintiff from the gas, and 11 Plaintiff was not provided with medical care afterwards. (Id.)

12 After screening, the Court found that Plaintiff's Eighth Amendment excessive force
13 claim against Doe Defendants and his failure to protect claim against defendant Medina should 14 proceed past screening. (ECF No. 9 at 1). The Court also found that Plaintiff failed to state a 15 claim for deliberate indifference to his serious medical needs, but gave him an opportunity to 16 amend his complaint. (Id. at 9–12). Plaintiff chose to proceed on his original complaint without 17 amending (ECF No. 10), the Court then issued findings and recommendations accordingly
18 (ECF No. 11), which were adopted by the district court judge in full (ECF No. 15).

19 Plaintiff's complaint was served on Defendant Medina, who filed an answer on March 20 15, 2023. (ECF No. 23). In her answer, Defendant Medina admitted that "there is an 21 administrative grievance process available to Plaintiff and admit[ted] that Plaintiff exhausted
22 those administrative remedies." (Id. at 4).

23 Through discovery, Plaintiff learned the names of Doe Defendants (ECF No. 33) and 24 moved to substitute them (ECF No. 39); the Court granted his motion and ordered service.
25 (ECF No. 45). Formerly Doe Defendants, correctional Officers J. Barajas, G. Chacon, A.
26 Guerrero, I. Sanchez, and B. Markin have appeared and filed their answer. (ECF No. 64).

1 B. Defendant Medina's Motion for Summary Judgment (ECF No. 38)

2 On August 25, 2023, Defendant Medina moved for summary judgment, arguing that 3 Plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative remedies as to his failure to protect claim against 4 her. (ECF No. 38). The motion and accompanying declaration from A. Vasquez ("Vasquez
5 declaration"), a Grievance Coordinator with the California Department of Corrections (CDCR),
6 set forth administrative grievance process that was available to Plaintiff at the time of the 7 incident. (Id. 5–6; ECF No. 38-1 at 2–3). This process requires the inmate to submit a grievance
8 in writing to the Institutional Office of Grievances (OOG) at their institution within 30 days of 9 the incident grieved. (ECF No. 38 at 4). If the OOG identifies the grievance as an allegation of 10 staff misconduct, as was the case here, that grievance is referred outside of the institutional
11 grievance process to the CDCR's Office of Internal Affairs-Allegations Inquiry Management
12 Section (OIA-AIMS), which provides a separate decision. (Id. at 5). That decision, in the form 13 of a confidential report, is eventually returned to OOG, and exhausts all administrative 14 remedies available to inmates for that claim. (Id.)

15 Defendant Medina concedes that within 30 days of the March 19, 2022 incident,²
16 Plaintiff filed a grievance, which was assigned Log No. 246844. (Id.) The OOG issued a 17 response to Grievance Log No. 246844 on April 26, 2022, indicating that Plaintiff's claim was 18 identified as an allegation of staff misconduct, and that this decision exhausted all
19 administrative remedies available to Plaintiff for this claim. (Id. at 5–6; see also ECF No. 38-1 20 at 10).

21 Defendant Medina argues that while Plaintiff's grievance does mention excessive use of 22 force, Plaintiff's grievance "does not mention, let alone identify, any alleged misconduct 23 committed by Defendant [Medina]. . . regarding his alleged failure to protect claim." (ECF No.
24 38 at 9). In addition to the grievance itself, Defendant cites a redacted copy of an excerpt from 25 an OIA/AIMS investigation report, which summarizes Plaintiff's allegation as "Cotton alleged

26

27 ² There is some disagreement between the parties as to the date of the grievance, but it is not 28 material. The Vasquez Declaration and accompanying exhibits show that the grievance was received and logged in the system within 30 days of the incident (ECF No. 38-1 at 3, 6) and Defendant Medina does not dispute that it was timely.

he was subjected to excessive use of force when he was overwhelmed in a caged enclosure by chemical agents deployed by staff during an incident he did not participate in.” (ECF No. 38 at 9; ECF No. 38-1 at 12). But in Plaintiff’s complaint, Defendant Medina argues, he alleged that “after the gas canisters were fired, Defendant Medina ordered yard officers to ‘lock Plaintiff inside a cage enclosure and to continue to force inmate/Plaintiff to the exposure of gas that breached Plaintiffs rec enclosure. All the while ignoring Plaintiffs pleas for medical aid.’” (ECF No. 38 at 10, quoting Complaint, ECF No. 1 at 4). Defendant Medina argues that Plaintiff’s grievance did not contain enough factual specificity to put the prison on notice of the nature of the wrong for which the prisoner seeks redress. (ECF No. 38 at 10).

C. Plaintiff’s Response to Motion for Summary Judgment (ECF No. 48) and Motion to View the Video (ECF No. 49)

Plaintiff filed opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment (ECF No. 48), arguing that Defendant Medina already admitted in her answer that he exhausted his administrative remedies (id. at 3, 6)³ and that he did, in fact, exhaust his remedies by filing a grievance (id. at 4–6).⁴ Throughout his response, Plaintiff mentions the video recording of his interview conducted on April 4, 2022, in connection with the grievance (hereinafter, “Grievance Interview”). (Id. at 3, 4, 5, 6.) Plaintiff argues that during that interview, he identified Sgt. Medina, her role, her denial of help and medical, and why he was harmed by her actions. (Id. at 3, 4, 5).

In addition, Plaintiff filed a separate motion asking the Court to view the recording of the Grievance Interview, as further evidence that he exhausted his remedies. (ECF No. 49).

D. Defendant’s Reply (ECF No. 52)

In her Reply, Defendant Medina notes that Plaintiff concedes that an administrative grievance process was available to him, that he filed a grievance, which was assigned log

⁴ Plaintiff’s references to exhibits in his Response (ECF No. 48) appear to refer to exhibits filed with his accompanying Motion to View Video (ECF No. 49).

1 #26844, and that he was interviewed in connection with that grievance, and that this interview
2 was recorded. (ECF No. 52 at 2).

3 Defendant Medina disputes, however, that Plaintiff has demonstrated that the grievance
4 and his interview set forth enough facts related to his claim against Defendant Medina. (Id. at 5 2–3). She argues that in the Grievance Interview, “Plaintiff makes no mention of Defendant
6 Medina and/or any her actions, inactions, or conduct that would otherwise support his failure to 7 protect claim against her.” (Id. at 3). Defendant lodged a copy of Grievance Interview with the 8 Court and also asks the Court to “listen to the recording and make its own determination.” (Id.).

9 As to her concession that Plaintiff has exhausted administrative remedies in her
10 Answer, Defendant Medina argues that the Court should reject it, because “[t]o the extent
11 Defendant’s answer took any position on exhaustion, not one response concerned any claim 12 that Defendant failed to protect Plaintiff.” (Id. at 3, n.3).

13 Defendant Medina maintains that “Plaintiff has failed to present evidence sufficient to 14 put the prison on notice that Defendant Medina in any way failed to protect Plaintiff,” and cites 15 several of her responses to Court’s previous orders showing that “she has never had any 16 interaction with Plaintiff, was not assigned to any yard at the time of the incident of which 17 Plaintiff complains of in this case, and had no role in responding to the incident.” (Id. at 3).

18 II. LEGAL STANDARDS

19 A. Summary Judgment

20 A party may move for summary judgment on a claim or defense. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a).
21 Summary judgment in favor of a party is appropriate when there “is no genuine dispute as to 22 any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
23 56(a); Albino v. Baca (Albino II), 747 F.3d 1162, 1169 (9th Cir. 2014) (en banc) (“If there is 24 a genuine dispute about material facts, summary judgment will not be granted.”). A party
25 asserting that a fact cannot be disputed must support the assertion by “citing to particular parts
26 of materials in the record, including depositions, documents, electronically stored information, 27 affidavits or declarations, stipulations (including those made for purposes of the motion only),
28 admissions, interrogatory answers, or other materials, or showing that the materials cited do not

1 establish the absence or presence of a genuine dispute, or that an adverse party cannot produce
2 admissible evidence to support the fact.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(1).

3 A party moving for summary judgment “bears the initial responsibility of informing the 4 district court of the basis for its motion, and identifying those portions of ‘the pleadings, 5 depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if 6 any,’ which it believes demonstrate the absence of a genuine issue of material fact.” Celotex
7 Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986) (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)). If the moving party
8 moves for summary judgment on the basis that a material fact lacks any proof, the Court must 9 determine whether a fair-minded jury could reasonably find for the non-moving party.
10 Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 252 (1986) (“The mere existence of a scintilla
11 of evidence in support of the plaintiff’s position will be insufficient; there must be evidence on 12 which the jury could reasonably find for the plaintiff.”). “[A] complete failure of proof
13 concerning an essential element of the nonmoving party’s case necessarily renders all other 14 facts immaterial.” Celotex, 477 U.S. at 322. Additionally, “[a] summary judgment motion 15 cannot be defeated by relying solely on conclusory allegations unsupported by factual data.”
16 Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir. 1989).

17 In reviewing the evidence at the summary judgment stage, the Court “must draw all 18 reasonable inferences in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party.” Comite de 19 Jornaleros de Redondo Beach v. City of Redondo Beach, 657 F.3d 936, 942 (9th Cir. 2011).
20 It need only draw inferences, however, where there is “evidence in the record . . . from which 21 a reasonable inference . . . may be drawn”; the court need not entertain inferences that are 22 unsupported by fact. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 330 n. 2 (citation omitted). Additionally, “[t]he 23 evidence of the non-movant is to be believed.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255.

24 In reviewing a summary judgment motion, the Court may consider other materials in 25 the record not cited to by the parties, but is not required to do so. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(3); 26 Carmen v. San Francisco Unified School Dist., 237 F.3d 1026, 1031 (9th Cir. 2001).

B. Exhaustion

Section 1997e(a) of the Prison Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (PLRA) provides that “[n]o action shall be brought with respect to prison conditions under [42 U.S.C. § 1983], or any other Federal law, by a prisoner confined in any jail, prison, or other correctional facility until such administrative remedies as are available are exhausted.” 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a).

Prisoners are required to exhaust the available administrative remedies prior to filing suit. Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 211 (2007); McKinney v. Carey, 311 F.3d 1198, 119–1201 (9th Cir. 2002) (per curiam). The exhaustion requirement applies to all prisoner suits relating to prison life. Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 532 (2002). Exhaustion is required regardless of the relief sought by the prisoner and regardless of the relief offered by the process, unless “the relevant administrative procedure lacks authority to provide any relief or to take any action whatsoever in response to a complaint.” Booth v. Churner, 532 U.S. 731, 736 (2001); see Ross v. Blake, 578 U.S. 632, 643 (2016).

There are no “special circumstances” exceptions to the exhaustion requirement. Ross, 578 U.S. at 648. The one significant qualifier is that “the remedies must indeed be ‘available’ to the prisoner.” Id. at 639. The Ross Court described this qualification as follows:

[A]n administrative procedure is unavailable when (despite what regulations or guidance materials may promise) it operates as a simple dead end—with officers unable or consistently unwilling to provide any relief to aggrieved inmates . . .

Next, an administrative scheme might be so opaque that it becomes, practically speaking, incapable of use . . .

And finally, the same is true when prison administrators thwart inmates from taking advantage of a grievance process through machination, misrepresentation, or intimidation . . . As all those courts have recognized, such interference with an inmate’s pursuit of relief renders the administrative process unavailable. And then, once again, § 1997e(a) poses no bar.

Id. at 643–44 (internal citations omitted).

1 “When prison officials improperly fail to process a prisoner’s grievance, the prisoner is 2 deemed to have exhausted available administrative remedies.” Andres v. Marshall, 867 F.3d
3 1076, 1079 (9th Cir. 2017).

4 On a defendant’s motion for summary judgment for failure to exhaust, the defendant 5 has the initial burden to prove “that there was an available administrative remedy, and that the 6 prisoner did not exhaust that available remedy.” Albino II, 747 F.3d at 1172. If the defendant
7 carries that burden, “the burden shifts to the prisoner to come forward with evidence showing
8 that there is something in his particular case that made the existing and generally available
9 administrative remedies effectively unavailable to him.” Id. However, “the ultimate burden of 10 proof remains with the defendant.” Id. “If material facts are disputed, summary judgment 11 should be denied, and the district judge rather than a jury should determine the facts.” Id. at 12 1166.

13 If the Court concludes that Plaintiff has failed to exhaust, the proper remedy is dismissal
14 without prejudice of the portions of the complaint barred by section 1997e(a). Jones, 549 U.S.
15 at 223–24; Lira v. Herrera, 427 F.3d 1164, 1175–76 (9th Cir. 2005). The failure to exhaust in 16 compliance with section 1997e(a) of the PLRA is an affirmative defense that defendants have 17 the burden of raising and proving. Jones, 549 U.S. at 216.

18 III. DISCUSSION

19 A. Plaintiff’s Motion to View Video

20 Plaintiff asks this Court to view the recording of his Grievance Interview. Plaintiff had 21 the opportunity to view it (ECF No. 49 at 20), and neither Plaintiff nor Defendant Medina raise 22 any objections to its use as an exhibit in resolving the motion for summary judgment or raise
23 any concerns about its authenticity. In fact, both Plaintiff and Defendant Medina urge the Court 24 to view the video and therefore, agree that the video is relevant and probative evidence on the 25 issue of exhaustion of administrative remedies. (ECF No. 49 at 1; ECF No. 52 at 3).

26 Courts may disregard a party’s version of events if it contradicts undisputed video 27 evidence submitted in support of or in opposition to a motion for summary judgment. Scott v.
28 Harris, 550 U.S. 372, 380 (2007) (holding that summary judgment is appropriate where video

1 evidence contradicts a non-moving party's version of events). Indeed, in construing a video
2 submitted in support of a summary judgment motion, this Court must "view[] the facts in light
3 depicted by the videotape." Id.

4 Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Plaintiff's Motion (ECF No. 49) to view the video of 5 his Grievance Interview. The Court will treat it as an exhibit filed in support of Plaintiff's
6 opposition (ECF No. 48) to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment (ECF No. 38).

7 B. Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment

8 1. Judicial Admission

9 As an initial matter, the Court considers Defendant Medina's statement in her answer
10 that "there is an administrative grievance process available to Plaintiff and admits that Plaintiff 11 exhausted those administrative remedies." (ECF No. 23 at 4).

12 Regarding judicial admissions, the Ninth Circuit has explained:

13 [U]nder federal law, stipulations and admissions in the pleadings are 14 generally binding on the parties and the Court. . . . Judicial admissions 15 are formal admissions in the pleadings which have the effect of 16 withdrawing a fact from issue and dispensing wholly with the need for 17 proof of the fact. . . . Factual assertions in pleadings and pretrial orders, unless amended, are considered judicial admissions conclusively binding on the party who made them.

18 Am. Title Ins. Co. v. Lacelaw Corp., 861 F.2d 224, 226 (9th Cir. 1988) (internal citations 19 omitted). Therefore, unless amended, Defendant Medina's admission that Plaintiff has 20 exhausted administrative remedies is binding on the parties and the Court.

21 In her reply, Defendant Medina barely addresses this argument. She merely includes a 22 footnote to her reply stating "The Court can easily reject Plaintiff's contention that Defendant
23 admitted in her answer to Plaintiff's complaint that he had exhausted administrative remedies.
24 To the extent Defendant's answer took any position on exhaustion, not one response concerned 25 any claim that Defendant failed to protect Plaintiff." (ECF No. 52 at 3 n.3). This argument is 26 unavailing. Defendant's answer was only for Defendant Medina, and the only claim pending
27 against Defendant Medina was for a failure to protect claim. Thus, Defendant Medina's answer 28 stating that Plaintiff had exhausted administrative remedies is a judicial admission as to the

1 claim against Defendant Medina. Nor has Defendant Medina made any motion to amend her
2 answer or provided any basis to do so. The admission is thus binding on Defendant Medina,
3 and Defendant Medina's motion for summary judgment is subject to denial on that basis.

4 Nevertheless, as explained below, the Court also recommends finding that Plaintiff
5 exhausted his administrative remedies as to his claim against Defendant Medina.

6 2. Undisputed facts regarding exhaustion

7 The Court finds that the following facts are undisputed:⁵

- 8 • The alleged incident giving rise to the events in this action occurred on March 9 19, 2022. (ECF No. 38 at 5, n.2; ECF No. 1 at 3).
- 10 • There was a generally available administrative remedy. (ECF No. 52 at 2).
- 11 • Plaintiff knew about and used the administrative grievance process by filing a 12 grievance related to the March 19, 2022 incident, which was assigned log 13 #246844 (ECF No. 52 at 2; ECF No. 48 at 4).
- 14 • Plaintiff's grievance, log #246844, was timely filed within 30 days of the 15 incident. (ECF No. 48 at 4; ECF No. 38-1 at 2, 3, 6);
- 16 • Plaintiff's grievance, log #246844, was identified as an allegation of staff 17 misconduct and referred outside of the institutional grievance process to the 18 CDCR's Office of Internal Affairs-Allegations Inquiry Management Section
19 (OIA-AIMS), which exhausted all administrative remedies available to Plaintiff
20 as to the allegations made in his grievance. (ECF No. 38 at 5–6; ECF No. 38-1 21 at 2–3; ECF No. 48 at 6; ECF No. 49 at 4).
- 22 • Plaintiff was interviewed on April 4, 2022, in connection with his grievance, 23 log #246844, related to March 19, 2022 incident (Grievance Interview). (ECF
No. 48 at 5; ECF No. 52 at 3).

24 Accordingly, the Court finds that there is not a genuine dispute of material fact 25 regarding whether a generally available administrative remedy was available to Plaintiff, and

26 _____
27 5 Defendant Medina failed to file a "Statement of Undisputed Facts" as required by Local Rule 28 260(a) and Plaintiff failed to provide one in response, Local Rule 260(b). However, after reviewing the parties' filings, the Court has determined that neither side disputes these facts.

1 whether Plaintiff timely filed a grievance that was fully exhausted. The only issue in dispute in 2 this motion is whether Plaintiff's grievance suffices to exhaust Plaintiff's failure to protect 3 claim against Defendant Medina.

4 3. Plaintiff's Grievance

5 "A grievance suffices to exhaust a claim if it puts the prison on adequate notice of the 6 problem for which the prisoner seeks redress. To provide adequate notice, the prisoner need
7 only provide the level of detail required by the prison's regulations." Sapp v. Kimbrell, 623
8 F.3d 813, 824 (9th Cir. 2010) (citing Jones, 549 U.S. at 219). The Vasquez Declaration 9 provides that the regulations that an inmate must follow in filing a grievance are "set forth in 10 California Code of Regulations, title 15, sections 3480–3487. An inmate may submit a written 11 grievance containing one or more claims, subject to the requirements in section 3482 . . ." (ECF 12 No. 38-1 at 2). In turn, Regs. § 3482(c)(2) requires that a claimant shall:

13 describe all information known and available to the claimant regarding 14 the claim, including key dates and times, names and titles of all 15 involved staff members (or a description of those staff members), and 16 names and titles of all witnesses, to the best of the claimant's knowledge;

17 The grievance "need not include legal terminology or legal theories," because "[t]he 18 primary purpose of a grievance is to alert the prison to a problem and facilitate its resolution, 19 not to lay groundwork for litigation." Griffin v. Arpaio, 557 F.3d 1117, 1120 (9th Cir. 2009)).

20 In his grievance, in relevant part, Plaintiff alleged that:⁶

21 [On] March 19 Plaintiff in this matter was subjected to unprovoked
22 and unwarranted attack on his physical person by way of negligence
23 and excessive force by John Doe/Jane Doe officer in observation tower
24 C yard ajoined [sic] caged enclosure by use of dangerous gas canisters dispersed in overzealous manner.

25 Plaintiff on above date heard the "shots," two loud booms, then 26 seconds later Plaintiff's caged enclosure was completely overwhelmed and enveloped in toxic cloud of dangerous gas; which broke the 2 fight.

3 Per surveillance cameras stationed on the facility building it can be 4 clearly observed that Plaintiff was assaulted by gasses while

6 places of cover abandoning Plaintiff in caged enclosure to be 7 subjected to the gas and injury.

8 (ECF No. 38-1 at 8) (emphasis added).

9 In his Grievance Interview, Plaintiff provided this additional information:⁷

10 [2:20] On that day, I was punching on the punching bag that's outside 11 of the yard, between the two gates . . . When I was punching on the 12 bag, a film came over the yard and took my breath. I immediately
13 stopped what I was doing, tried to hold my breath. I couldn't.
14 Breathing hard because of the bag punching, I tried to get to another 15 side of the gate. Gate was locked. I couldn't get over to my building, 16 so for ten minutes, I had to breathe in the substance. I tried to get help 17 immediately, physically, because of my breathing, and I was turned 18 down. They told me to get back to my building, right now . . .

19 [3:37] There's quite a few staff members. I don't know them by names
20 but when I tried to get to the building, they were running this way
21 [Plaintiff gestures on camera], to the program office, to get out of the 22 smelling area.

23 Plaintiff then identified the location of the incident as C yard and stated, 24 [4:12] I believe he shot the canisters off, because I know that sound.

25 . . . They didn't tell us to get down until after the COs started running 26 to the building, to the program office, that's when they said, "get 27 down."

28 When asked if he filed an appeal, at 5:00, Plaintiff says that he "filed a 602," and the interviewing staff member confirms "for the record, grievance number 246844." When asked if he has anything else to add to the interview, Plaintiff added:

29 [5:15] Just that, you know, I wouldn't be here today if I could've got 30 help that day. And I tried. I asked the Sergeant.

7 Numbers in brackets are the time markers, referring to minute and seconds from the start of the recording of the Grievance Interview, as it was provided to the Court by Defendant Medina.

1 Plaintiff's grievance and interview present essentially the same narrative as his
2 complaint in this action: Plaintiff was locked in an enclosure out of which he could not get out,
3 he was being "assaulted by gasses" and struggled to breathe, correctional officers ran for cover
4 past him and abandoned him in the enclosure, he tried to get help and was denied, he 5 specifically "asked the Sergeant" for help but was denied, and the denial of help by "the 6 Sergeant" was the driving force behind his grievance. This sufficiently alerted the prison to the 7 nature of the problem.

8 Defendant Medina argues that Plaintiff failed to properly grieve his claim against her
9 because she was not named in either Plaintiff's grievance or Grievance Interview. (ECF No. 38 10 at 9) ("Grievance Log No. 246844 makes no mention of Defendant . . ."); ECF No. 52 at 3) ("In 11 that interview, exactly as in his written Grievance Log No. 246844, Plaintiff makes no mention 12 of Defendant Medina . . ."). Defendant Medina also posits that her argument "is further 13 supported and evidenced" by the excerpt from OIA/AIMS investigation report, where "under 14 the heading 'Accused Staff,' there is no mention of Defendant." (ECF No. 38 at 9; ECF No. 38-15 1 at 12).

16 The Court does not find this argument persuasive. The grievance process is only 17 required to "alert prison officials to a problem, not to provide personal notice to a particular 18 official that he may be sued." Jones, 549 U.S. at 219 (citations omitted). Prison regulations 19 require that claimant provides names and titles of staff members involved "to the best of the 20 claimant's knowledge." Regs. § 3482(c)(2). During his Grievance Interview, Plaintiff specified
21 he asked "the Sergeant" for help. (Grievance Interview at 5:15). If that description was not
22 sufficient to identify the particular sergeant involved, the staff who were interviewing Plaintiff
23 had the opportunity to ask follow-up questions. In his grievance, Plaintiff also stated that video 24 surveillance would show staff abandoning him in the cage while running for cover themselves.
25 (ECF No. 38-1 at 8).

26 Moreover, although Defendant Medina is not listed under "Accused Staff" section of 27 the OIA/AIMS report, identifying her by name was not required in order to exhaust Plaintiff's
28 claim against her. Notably, while Regs. § 3482(c)(2) requires claimant to name staff members

1 involved, to the best of his knowledge, Plaintiff's grievance did not name any staff members
2 except as "John Doe/Jane Doe." (ECF No. 38-1 at 8).

3 The Court thus finds that Plaintiff's grievance contained enough factual specificity to 4 put the prison on notice as to the nature of the wrong for which Plaintiff now seeks redress in 5 this Court under his failure to protect claim, and recommends that Defendant Medina's motion
6 for summary judgment for failure to exhaust administrative remedies be denied.

7 IV. CONCLUSION AND ORDER

8 Based on the foregoing, the Court ORDERS that:

9 1. Plaintiff's Motion to View Video (ECF No. 49) is GRANTED;

10 It is further RECOMMENDED that:

11 1. Defendant Medina's motion for summary judgment (ECF No. 38) be DENIED;

12 These findings and recommendations are submitted to the United States district judge
13 assigned to the case, pursuant to the provisions of Title 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). Within thirty 14 days after being served with these findings and recommendations, any party may file written 15 objections with the court. Such a document should be captioned "Objections to Magistrate 16 Judge's Findings and Recommendations." Any response to the objections shall be served and 17 filed within fourteen days after service of the objections. The parties are advised that failure to 18 file objections within the specified time may result in the waiver of rights on appeal. Wilkerson

20 1394 (9th Cir. 1991)).
